About Us

Ramsey and Anita Russell, Owners

Ramsey Russell is a certified wildlife biologist by training and a life-long wingshooter. After more than a decade of business and outstanding service to the global hunting community, GetDucks.com has become synonymous with quality and turn-key wingshooting operations throughout the world. Ramsey is originally from Brandon, Mississippi. His work and dedication has taken him to the world's foremost waterfowl hunting areas. Although a worldwide hunter and guide, his favorite times are spent at home in Mississippi hunting with his children, close friends, and favorite retriever.

Ramsey has been married to Anita for nearly 20 years, and together they form the perfect partnership in life and work. While Ramsey's training and experiences are integral to building the best list of quality duck hunting experiences available in the world, Anita's attention to detail, planning, and communication are integral to GetDucks.com's success. Ramsey and Anita are personally available for assistance before, during, and after the hunt.

RAMSEY RUSSELL

"Words do not give justice to the quality of people you deal with at GetDucks.com. Best I have ever booked through, and I have used a few in my 64 years on this planet. Most others are much more involved in selling than in delivery of the package. Anita and Ramsey deliver the goods as if you were family."

"Best waterfowl hunt I have ever experienced.
This was the hunt that will keep me in the field for years to come."

S. Hursh

Peru Duck Hunting

Peru is a hidden treasure in international wingshooting due to unique species, low hunting pressure, diverse habitats and spectacular scenery. For trophy waterfowl collectors, a number of must-have waterfowl species inhabit high-altitude wetlands among the Andes Mountains include: Andean Geese, Puna Teal, Crested Ducks, Sharp-winged Ducks, Andean Ruddy Ducks, and Torrent Duck. Duck hunting in Peru's pacific-coastal rice fields entails high-volume duck hunting for the greatest density of Cinnamon Teal (Andean Cinnamon Teal) in the world. Most guests opt for the Peru duck hunting combo and enjoy both unique experiences.

"This was the best hunting trip I have ever been on. Even with an airline delay, GetDucks.com was there to assist with all airline, hotel, and transfer issues. The number of fantastic shots at the 3 different species of birds and expert guides made this hunt an experience I will never forget."

R. Bottcher

New Zealand Waterfowl Hunting

New Zealand waterfowl hunting is an excellent stand-alone trip to extend your wingshooting horizons, and may be combined with big game hunting and fishing for a completely customized experience on either South or North islands. The natural habitat for New Zealand's upland game birds and waterfowl is spectacular. In addition to duck species popularly hunted in the United States, there are indigenous species that top avid bird hunter's lists, plus unique wingshooting opportunities that probably should. Trophy species prized by collectors include: Paradise Shelduck, Pacific Black Duck, Australian Shoveler, rail-like Puekeko, Mallards, Canada Geese, and Black Swans. These different species comprise the bulk of the New Zealand waterfowl hunting. Upland offers wingshooting opportunities for: California Quail, Ring-Necked Pheasants, Peafowl and Wild Turkeys. New Zealand big game hunting is unrivaled in the abundance of world-class trophies and the diversity of big-game species including: Red Deer, Fallow, Tahr, Chamois, Sika, Sambar and Ruso Deer.

South Africa Duck and Bird Hunting

South Africa duck hunting provides an excellent wingshooting experience as a stand alone trip or as a complement to your Africa plains game or photographic safari. Africa bird hunting includes a diversity of waterfowl and upland species, offers avid wingshooting travelers an authentic taste of Africa and a refreshingly challenging shotgun adventure. Trophy species include: Egyptian Goose, Spur-winged Goose, African Yellow-billed Duck, African Shelduck, Red-billed Teal, Hottentot Teal, Cape Shoveler, White-faced Whistling Duck; Helmeted Guineafowl, Swainson's Francolin, Orange River Francolin, Redeye Dove, Laughing Dove, Cape Turtle Dove and Rock Pigeon. Most of South Africa's most popular game animals are also available nearby, or guests may choose to trophy hunt at several other venues that are also available.

Russia Duck Hunting

Russia duck hunting is a trophy hunting adventure with waterfowl and upland species not commonly available in the US and provides one of the last remaining opportunities in the world to hunt northern hemisphere species during late-Spring. Limited to only 2 groups of 6 hunters during the latter half of May, this Russia bird hunting experience takes place in the northern province of Karelia. Just within the arctic circle and adjacent to the White Sea, the backdrop of this hunt is one of the most remote and unspoiled boreal forest habitat in the world. Trophy species include: Tufted Duck, Eurasian Green-winged Teal, Eurasian Wigeon, Smew, Common Goldeneye, European Common Eider, Northern Common Eider, White-winged Scoter, Common Scoter, Red-breasted Merganser, Goosander, Capercaille, Black Grouse, Snow Grouse, Hazel Grouse and more.

Uruguay Duck Hunting and Duck Combo Hunting

Uruguay duck hunting and duck combo hunting is a must-do, especially for hunters seeking specific duck species such as Brazilian ducks or diverse upland hunting opportunities, and a change of scenery. This combo includes excellent high-volume dove hunting, superb perdiz hunting, and decoyed pigeon hunting from the very same luxury lodge. Choose from ducks only to combo packages featuring: ducks, doves, pigeons, perdiz or golden dorado fishing. Duck species include: Rosy-billed Pochard, Ringed Teal, Silver Teal, White-faced Whistling Duck, Brazilian Duck, Yellow-billed Duck, and Speckled Teal. While high-volume duck hunters may opt for Argentina, Uruguay dove hunting surpasses most expectations.

New England Sea Duck Hunting

New England sea duck hunting is a quick and inexpensive way to jump-start your North American duck species collection and to experience a different style of duck hunting available throughout most of the US. Whether choosing the hotel and restaurant options near Boston, Massachusetts, the lodge or home-cooked meals near Bar Harbor, Maine, be assured that a quality sea duck hunting experience awaits. Trophy species include: Common Eider, Surf Scoter, White-winged Scoter, Black Scoter, Common Golden Eye, Long-tailed Duck, American Black Duck, Atlantic Brant, and Canada Goose, as well as mallards and several other species.

“My Argentina duck hunt exceeded my expectations! I never imagined that I would see or shoot as many ducks. The service was unparalleled, the food was decadent, and the memories will be treasured for a lifetime.”

C. Campbell

“The attention to detail was impeccable from greeting to departure. The lodge staff made sure that our stay and our experience were as enjoyable as possible. No request was too small or too large. And of course, the hunting experience itself was second to none.”

G. Martinez

“Great experience from beginning to ending thanks to Ramsey and Anita. Ramsey described the hunt perfectly, but it exceeded all expectations. I recommend GetDucks.com to anyone interested in the best hunting and most personalized travel services available.”

M. Shaw

“I can’t think of a more incredible hunting experience with better people to share it with, or more fantastic food and accommodations. I was blown away by the number of birds seen during the hunts, and want to compliment everyone for their thoroughness and professionalism.”

D. Arends

“I have worked and hunted with many hunting agencies all over the world and can easily recommend GetDucks.com. The trips arranged for us have been great hunts and very well organized. He and Anita make sure all details are attended to. There is nothing worse than getting to some remote location and greeted with surprises. If you are interested in a quality duck hunting experiences, contact Ramsey Russell.”

T. Denmon

(Professional Hunter, Host MOJO TV, President & CEO of MOJO Outdoors)

“Each time I go on a GetDucks.com waterfowl hunt, I notice a common theme with the other hunting parties we bump into at the airports and back home - it seems we always end up paying less and killing more than the other guys. I also believe that we have a better time in general.”
